

SPECIALIST DISABILITY SUPPORT IN SCHOOLS

PURPOSE

This program provides specialist disability support in schools to the Non-Government schools located in Bundaberg. The Speech Pathologist and Occupational therapist offer individual therapy services to the school students at the school premises. Therapy services assist students to succeed with their school curriculum. The service provides teachers and teacher aids with the skills to assist students in the classroom.

ELIGIBILITY

Students will be enrolled with Non-Government schools in Bundaberg and will be verified with a disability.

Enquiries regarding how a student can access these services should be directed to learning support staff at the relevant school.

DESCRIPTION

The services are delivered to students by fully qualified and experienced allied health practitioners. This program is funded by the Queensland Government Department of Education.
